Re: Prepublication Review of COUNTERFEIT LIES

To whom it may concern:

I am a retired FBI agent.

Enclosed you will find a draft manuscript for my latest novel COUNTERFEIT LIES. I have previously submitted and received approval for three scripts and three books (all have been published) and I am familiar with the regulations and procedures. I have reviewed the guidelines for publication and believe this work clearly falls within those guidelines. All facts, techniques and information regarding the FBI were taken from public documents.

This fictional story:

- does not involve information protected by the Privacy Act
- does not involve a national security matter
- does not reveal sensitive law enforcement, intelligence or counter-intelligence techniques, sources or methods
- does not reveal grand jury protected material
- does not reveal the identity of a confidential source or informant
- does not relate to sensitive operational details or the substantive merits of an ongoing investigation, inquest, probe, prosecution, appeal or case
- does not consist of proprietary information or trade secrets
- does not pertain to wire taps or currency transactions
- contains no tax information
- contains no information pertaining to contractor bids
- contains no information protected by federal statute
- does not pertain to any provisions of the Freedom of Information Act

Thank you for your timely consideration of this matter.
